To Whom It May Concern:

I manage an outdoor small organic produce market here in Cornville, Arizona, USA and met Mr. A. Hamid Dashti when he came to the market and mentioned that he was looking for certain herbs. As a lifelong student of herbs, natural foods and medicines it became a basis for friendship between Mr. Dashti, my husband and myself.

In July of 1999 I found myself facing a physical crisis in the form of an apparent skin cancer and for both economic and spiritual reasons I felt compelled to attempt a totally natural treatment. (We have no medical insurance and do not qualify for government aid.) I applied an herbal preparation, Black Salve, to the lesion and as it went to work I felt the need to consult with someone else who was knowledgeable and called on Mr. Dashti. He was immediately able to make a healing salve to heal the results of the black salve and to come up with herbal preparations which he put together for internal use to augment the immune system and cleanse my system. He monitored blood pressure, temperature and bodily pH balance daily and guided me to maintaining a healing and sustaining diet that both aided me in overcoming the apparent skin cancer and a pre-existing cystitis of my ovary which kept me in a chronic condition of pain and lowered immune function.

My health has steadily improved in all ways, including the loss of excess weight due to my metabolism finally functioning well for the first time in several years. I am no longer as prone to catching colds or flu and when it happens recovery is quick.

In my opinion, Mr. Dashti has the education, talent and spiritual basis to be the excellent practitioner of Natural Healing that he is.

Sincerely,
